

Cookies are files or pieces of information that may be stored on your computer (or other internet enabled devices, such as a smartphone or tablet) when a user's browser loads a particular website. A cookie will usually contain the name of the website from which the cookie has come from, the "lifetime" of the cookie (i.e. how long it will remain on your device), and a value, which is usually a randomly generated unique number. Therefore, when you return to websites or visit websites that use the same cookies – they recognize these cookies and your browsing device. Cookies permit to remember your preferences. We may use cookies to distinguish you from other users and to support the marketing of our services including evaluation of our site's advertising and promotional effectiveness. Cookies on COMPLY TODAY website help us to improve our sites and your user experience. Some cookies expire when the browser closes, while others remain on your computer unless you delete them. You may delete cookies whenever you like but by deleting cookies and disabling future cookies you may not be able to access certain areas or features of our site.

Consent to use of cookies

Cookies collect information about how visitors use the site, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies do not collect information which identifies a visitor and COMPLY TODAY will not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you. All information is aggregated and maintained anonymous. By using our website, you give consent that we can place these types of cookies on your device and agree that you understand this Cookies Policy.

How to control and delete cookies

Most internet browsers are initially set up to automatically accept cookies. You can change the settings to block cookies or to alert you when cookies are being sent to your device. There are a number of ways to manage cookies. Please refer to your browser instructions or help screen to learn more about how to adjust or modify your browser settings. If you use different devices to view and access the COMPLY TODAY site (e.g. your computer, smartphone, tablet etc.) you will need to ensure that each browser on each device is adjusted to suit your cookie preferences. You may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers as well as more general information about cookies.

Policy changes

We may modify or amend this Cookie Policy from time to time at our discretion. When we make changes to this notice, we will amend the revision date at the top of this page, and such modified or amended Cookie Policy shall be effective as to you and your information as of that revision date. We encourage you to periodically review this Cookie Policy to be informed about how we are using cookies.

Security

We will take reasonable precautions to protect personal information in our possession from loss, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. You should be aware, however, that communications over the Internet (which includes e-mails to COMPLY TODAY and registering as a user on our website) are not secure unless they have been encrypted and we do not accept any responsibility for any errors or omissions which arise from circumstances outside of our reasonable control. Our website may contain links to other websites that are operated by third parties. Other websites may also reference or link to our website. We cannot be responsible for the privacy practices or content of those other websites.

COMPLY TODAY

COOKIES POLICY

For more information about COMPLY TODAY, and how we protect information, please refer to our Privacy policy.